Easter Greetings

Minister's Letter

As I write we are approaching the fourth Sunday in Lent (also known as Mothering Sunday), which means we have only three more weeks to Easter. So how have you been marking the period of Lent so far?

The idea of “giving up” or even “taking up” something for Lent has become something of a cliché, which is unfortunate because it tends to obscure the real meaning and opportunity that Lent provides.

The opening words of our Ash Wednesday service (Methodist Worship Book page 141-2) explains that Lent was first observed by those being prepared for Baptism at Easter, and by those seeking restoration to the Church's fellowship. So Lent is a time of preparation similar to Advent.

But why do we need to prepare? This doesn't mean making sure we have done the shopping, sent the cards, bought the Easter eggs etc. It refers to being prepared in terms of our relationship with God. We are soon to join in a great celebration of that relationship, which we are able to have only because of the great act of grace and love which takes place through the resurrection of Jesus Christ on Easter Sunday. But before we can join in this great celebration we must make sure that our relationship with God is in good condition. Otherwise, it's a bit like turning up at the birthday party of a friend we have fallen out with!!

Hence “In the course of time, all Christians were invited to keep these days carefully, to take to heart the call to repentance, to receive the assurance of forgiveness proclaimed in the Gospel, and so to grow in faith and devotion to our Lord”. Therefore we are all invited to “observe this holy season of Lent, by prayer, self denial and charitable giving; by self examination and repentance; and by reading and meditating on God's word.”

I think that strict observance of Lent must have lapsed in many Methodist Churches in the last century because I can't remember anything about Lent from my days at Sunday School. The first time I remember observing Lent in any way was the 1986 Lent Course

“What on earth is the Church for” promoted by the British Council of Churches and supported by local radio stations and local churches. Participation in this led to an ongoing tradition of Lent Courses at my local church, which continues, and my first experience of an Ashing Service on Ash Wednesday was when I attended Wesley College to train for the ministry.

But since that 1986 Lent course I have many times participated in spiritual events and experiences which were unfamiliar to me: Iona services, Taize services, Ignatian spirituality and so on, many of which I encountered at the Greenbelt Festival. I have found some helpful and some less so in my journey of faith – but you never know until you try.

Our faith and discipleship grows as we avail ourselves of what John Wesley called the “means of grace”. Those things which bring us into contact with the love and grace of God including things like Holy Communion, Prayer, Worship and Bible study. The period of Lent offers an opportunity to focus on these things because the “giving up” is about cutting something out of our lives in order to make more time for them and to enable us to draw closer to God through them.

If you haven’t so far done anything to mark the period of Lent I encourage you to at least attend the Churches Together Lent course at Burnham on Wednesday evenings at 7.30pm, or to spend some time each day reading and meditating on a passage from the Bible. If you need any help or direction, then give me a call.

And I look forward to seeing you at our great celebration of the resurrection on Easter Sunday.

A very Happy Easter

Rev Andrew

Circuit Away Day Saturday 26th April at The Lynch Chapel, Winscombe

As you are aware, over the past few months meetings have been held in all the churches within our Circuit to try to capture the thoughts about the future.

Over the next 18 months major changes will occur in our ministerial team with Reverend Andrew moving in August whilst both Reverend Robert and Reverend Carol will be retiring in August next year.

It is now time to try to put together our thoughts about how we feel God wants us to shape and organise the functioning of our Circuit for the coming years. The input of everyone is welcome in this process and so we hope that as many people as possible will be able to join the discussions at a Circuit Away-Day on 26th April.

Plans for the Away-Day are now advancing, it will commence in a civilised manner with coffee from 9.15am ready for things to start at 9.30am and the day will finish at about 2.30pm, lunch is provided.

We need to know numbers for catering and we would ask you to tell your church steward by Sunday 6th April, if possible, whether you will be joining in this important process for the future plans of the Circuit.

We look forward to seeing you on this special day when we try to discern God's will for our future and the ways that He wants us to spread the Good News to the people around us.

Many Blessings,

Malcolm Gale

On behalf of the Away Day Team

Unity in Diversity A Course for Lent

What is our Christian Faith? How does this relate to what those of other religions believe, in particular those religions which like ours look back to the tradition of Abraham? How do our practices differ from theirs and perhaps even more important.

What do we have in common? These are some of the issues we hope to explore together during Lent this year.

In Churches Together we are fortunate to have the Revd Simon Bale as one of our members. Simon is the curate at S<sup>t</sup>. John's Highbridge but previously worked in Bristol where he had much experience with the Inter Faith Forum. He has given us much help in planning our programme and has arranged for two speakers to come from the Bristol Group. Valerie Emmott-Russell is a Progressive Jew who is very experienced in multi faith work and she will help Simon introduce the series on March 12th.

On March 19th.the session was led by Farzana Saker, a Muslim woman who is a Development Officer for the Bristol Multi-faith Forum. Simon Bale,led the next one. Richard Allen and I will lead the remaining two sessions in which we shall be looking at our own faith traditions and comparing our practices. We hope to conclude by sharing in a simple meal together and celebrate the Agape or Love Feast with bread and water. This was often used by early Methodists when they met in fellowship without an ordained minister.

All meetings will be held in Burnham Methodist Church starting at 7.30 on April 2nd. and 9th.

We do hope that we shall have a good attendance from all our churches but especially from our congregations in the Link .If you have any questions about the programme do ask me.

Margaret Trapp ☎760573

Circuit Prayer meetings

Please note the following dates for the next Circuit Prayer meetings

Meetings starting at 10.00am for about an hour with coffee from 9.30am

The prayer meeting on May 17th will be at Victoria and June 21st at Burnham

An Easter Meditation

We invite you to spend an hour or so on Easter Saturday to meditate on the meaning of Easter

The Stations of the Cross is a traditional meditation based on the final hours of the life of Jesus.

Although it is often associated with the Catholic Church here at Milton we will be using a more Protestant version.

Our main hall will be open from 10am until 4pm on Easter Saturday for you to visit at any time.

You can spend as much or as little time as you need to explore, think and pray about the 14 Stations that tell the story of Christ's journey from Gethsemane to the Cross.

Our hope is that this day will enable you to enter into a deeper understanding and experience of the passion of Jesus so that you might be ready to celebrate Easter with new joy and freedom
Please come and maybe bring others with you.

Invitation

Methodist Homes (MHA) would like to invite you to “Surprised by Age?” - a morning gathering to explore how ageing, spirituality and faith are at the heart of the Church’s mission, based around MHA’s own story. We are hosting this event at two different venues and dates:

Tuesday 3rd June 2014, 9.30am – 1.00pm at Cathays Methodist Church, Crwys Road/Fanny Street, Cardiff CF24 4NE

AND ALSO ON...

Thursday 5th June 2014, 9.30am – 1.00pm at Ladyfield Evangelical Church, Hungerdown Lane, Chippenham SN14 0BA

Includes lunch

The morning is aimed at providing church members, clergy, pastoral leaders and informal carers with both inspiration and ideas that will help the Church to continue recognising and addressing the needs of older people in the future.

The event is free and will be led by Revd Dr Keith Albans, MHA’s Director - Chaplaincy & Spirituality. Two breakout sessions will explore a variety of relevant topics, including Dementia, Spirituality and Later Life, Dying and Death and Serving Older People in the Community.

We do hope you will be able to join us in exploring later life in all its fullness. Your help in spreading the word amongst your own worshipping communities and networks would be very gratefully received.

For more information go to <http://www.mha.org.uk/get-involved/events/>

Our Circuit Link in Cameroon, teaching in a theological college.

Cameroon should be the most exotic tourist destination on the planet. Aside from its stunning coastline, Mount Cameroon rises up from these black sandy beaches into the clouds above. There are lush forests, crystal clear lakes and the most awful roads on God's earth. Whilst getting to its scenic parts has nearly killed me it is, quite simply, the most magical country in the world; a geographical wonder in every respect.

I have never seen anywhere so green. The mountain's proximity to the sea means it rains for nine months of the year. This ensures that there is an abundance of food and water. I can honestly say that although there are problems there is every chance that, in time, this nation will be great. It is already a great footballing nation. However, while it has come close to winning the world cup, in 1998 Cameroon won the title for being the most corrupt country in the world. This remains a huge problem to this day.

The bad roads, the electricity outages, the water shortages (luckily we have a well) are chronic. If the land wasn't so fertile I am sure that the population would be far less peaceable. A hungry man is a dangerous man - I don't like what I see in the mirror before I have my breakfast (don't talk to me before I drink tea in the morning either (if I'm fasting take cover (in a nuclear bunker))). Cameroonians are so patient. As the apostle says: "Tribulation brings patience" (Rom 5:3). It's as though Paul's words were written about Cameroonians. I must say that being here for just a short time has changed me. I am not saying that I like or want things to be as they are. The gas shortage, and its implications for making cups of tea, nearly pushed me over the edge. There is simply no reason for a country with nine months of rain to be without a good water supply. Nevertheless, I know these things have made me a little more patient-it's like having kids.

Anyway while you pray for Cameroon - for its leaders and its development - praise the Lord, because despite the state of things, God has used the many problems to create a wonderful people (who would surely win the world cup for being patient). I thank God for their example. They are surely the most serene feature in this beautiful land.

...IF I CAN JUST TOUCH [HIM], I WILL BE HEALED: Mark 5:28 NLT

Mark records the story of a woman who'd haemorrhaged for twelve years and spent every penny she had on doctors, but to no avail. What western culture discreetly refers to as 'a female condition' had devastated this Jewish (ad/s life. Sexually, she couldn't touch her husband. Maternally, she couldn't have children. Domestically, whatever she touched was considered 'unclean*. Spiritually, she couldn't enter the temple. So, physically exhausted, socially ostracised, and spiritually depleted, she thought, 'If I can just touch Jesus, I'll be made whole'. Her miracle started when she thought about Jesus. But first she had to get through the crowd that stood between her and Him. And so will you! The crowd has its arguments and reasons, but not one of them is worth missing Jesus for. When this woman finally got to Him, two wonderful things happened: 1) She discovered that our faith gets Jesus' attention every time. Many people in the crowd must have brushed up against Jesus that day, yet Mark records, Knowing in Himself that power had gone out of Him, [He] turned around in the crowd and said, 'Who touched My clothes?'" (v. 34 NKJV). Understand this: Jesus can tell the difference between a casual churchgoer and a truly hungry heart that pushes through pain, problems and pressures, and touches Him by faith. 2) She's the only woman Jesus ever called * ..daughter..; (v. 34 NKJV). Imagine how she felt She probably couldn't remember when she'd last heard a kind word. You're not just a face in the crowd, and your problem is not too big for Jesus. Today reach out in faith, touch Him, and be made whole!

SUNRISE

READ:
Exodus 3:1-12
Psalms 119:18

Then Moses said,
"I will now turn aside
and see this great
sight." --Exodus 3:3

THE BIBLE IN ONE YEAR:
Numbers 23-25
Mark 7:14-37

There was a magnificent sunrise this morning, but I was too busy to enjoy it. I turned away and became preoccupied with other things. I thought about that sunrise a few moments ago, and I realise I lost an opportunity for worship this morning.

In the midst of the busyness and stresses of our days, there are patches of beauty all around us, glimpses of God's goodness that we catch here and there along the way. These are the places in the walls of the universe where heaven is breaking through---if only we will take the time to stop and to reflect upon God's love for us.

What if Moses had taken only a fleeting glance at the bush that was burning but "was not consumed"? (Ex. 3:2). What if he had ignored it and hurried on to other things? (He had those sheep to take care of, you know, and important work to do.) He would have missed an epic, life changing encounter with the living God (w.4-12).

Sometimes in life we must hurry. But overall, life should be less hurrying and more noticing. Life is the present. Life is being aware; it is seeing God's love breaking through. It is turning aside to the miracle of something like a sunrise.

Something transitory, yet symbolic of the eternity that awaits us

. ---David Roper

WEST HUNTSPILL

Don't the months fly by, but isn't it lovely to welcome the Spring. On the 9th March I saw my first Butterfly and second Bumble Bee of the year.

I am sure by now you will all have read the "Report from the Circuit Vision Group". I was glad the most important part was printed in red-under Appendix 1, section 6. Earlier in the report Bagley Baptist Church was mentioned. I feel strongly that their video should be shown within our circuit. However I was surprised to learn, no church has permanent equipment on which to show it. Bagley Baptist started with a vision and prayer. Prayer resulted in an amazing new eco friendly church being built. I recommend a visit on a Wednesday morning for "Coffee with a view" 10.00 – 12 noon.

My plea now is, as the Appendix 1 Section 6 said and Bagley did, that we – yes all of us in the Circuit pray individually and as Churches. At West Huntspill we meet in the Church on Sunday at Approx. 10.15 to 10.30 am to pray.

Please write to the Link with your comments and progress.

BRENT KNOLL

Minister Rev. Andrew Biggs

It's been a busy time so far this Lent with so much being offered from the churches in our area. We at Brent Knoll are currently enjoying our fellowship at our Monday bible study sessions which Margaret Trapp has kindly been leading. And I'm sure we all want to thank Burnham for their hospitality during the Churches Together Lent talks on Wednesday evenings.

At the time of writing, we're looking forward to our Mothering Sunday service which will be taken by Julie Biggs. A big thank you to Ronnie for printing out some lovely card invitations which we will be handing out to the little ones at toddler group to give to their mums.

A date for your diary, we will be having a Spring "bring and buy" coffee morning here at the Church on Saturday 3 May from 10.30am. A warm welcome guaranteed as we love sharing drinks and chats with our Link friends.

Last (but certainly not least), we will be saying farewell to our Senior Steward Keith Cox as he and Sue move to France in April. Keith and Sue have worked tirelessly for the church over the years, especially with their commitment to the youth group. It goes without saying, Keith and Sue, that you will be in our prayers as we wish you, Elisha and Alfie every best in your new life in France.

Wishing you all a very happy Easter from all at Brent Knoll.

God bless

Rosemary Krull

BURNHAM

www.methodistchurchburnhamonsea.org.uk

Going to the Theatre this week with friends, out for a meal and away overnight. I think how lucky I am to be able to do this. Although not going to see Phantom of the Opera, for some reason the lyrics from 'All I ask of You' came to me and I thought how important the meaning of these words are in recognising people's needs and emotions.

"No more talk of darkness, forget those wild eyed fears
I'm here, nothing can harm you, my words will warm and calm you

Let me be your freedom, let daylight dry your fears
I'm here, with you beside you,
To guard you and to guide you

Let me be your shelter, let me be your light
You're safe, no-one will find you
Your fears are far behind you"

It's not always easy to find the time to listen, but perhaps we can be more aware of the people around us and what we can do to make their lives feel more safe, and less scared. Just a few minutes a day talking to someone at home, in the street, at church or on the phone can make all the difference. My trip will be full, lovely company, good food and a change of scene. Not everyone is this lucky, but we can help by being there.

Just think about the main lyrics of the song - Love me, that's all I ask of you

Marian Kingsbury

BREAN

www.brean-methodist-church.home.dhs.org

They came in great numbers. Mums and dads, grandmas and granddads, uncles and aunts, boys and girls, even a babe in arms. There's a clue there somewhere. Yes the baby was to be christened. The group were not known to our own congregation but it was still good to get the Spring season off to such a happy start with our normal ten or a dozen augmented to more than fifty. Andrew took the service in a relaxed and meaningful way, and still managed to get the christening and holy communion all finished within the hour. And they all stayed for coffee and tea and fruit juice after which was nice.

We've had a couple of other visitors this month too, one of whom had taken in a full morning by going to the 9.15am service at St Bridget's as well. But most of our regulars won't be around until Easter at least.

Papier maché has given way to Temari Balls in the repertoire of Brean Craft circle. It seems that these colourful balls originated in China but are now generally associated with Japan. There they are highly valued gifts symbolising deep friendship and loyalty, so how appropriate that a church group should start to make them. Today in Japan it is a long and tedious apprenticeship before a practitioner is fully acknowledged as a crafter. But our women have cracked it in weeks, so it seems, and our grandson loves them. Attracted by the bright colours they are being given the care and attention that you might expect from a 14 month old boy! When given as a gift to a child in Japan the mother would have placed a piece of paper inside when the ball was being made, with a goodwill wish.

After all the problems that farmers have had in Somerset this winter, and will continue to have for a long time yet, it is good to hear of better news as Rosemary reports a decent crop of new lambs this year with several triplets and little disease so far.

The report of the Circuit Vision Group was presented to the Circuit Meeting a week or so ago and was approved to be discussed at a Circuit Away Day on Saturday 26th April at a venue to be finalised. Please try to get sight of the report – I can email you another copy if you want (see Plan for my email or phone number), or your Circuit Meeting rep. may be able to help. The report does not on the whole present firm conclusions; that is the purpose of the Away Day. The report is an aid to that. We all have a say on the future of the Circuit, and of our own Church. Please play your part by reading the report and coming to the Day if you can.

Well Easter is upon us and the Christian season is approaching its climax. We hope that the Lenten period has given everyone new insights and that we are ready for the gifts that Easter brings as we reflect on Jesus' love and determination to be true to his call and on the triumph of the risen Christ.

Our very best wishes to you all

Harvey Allen
